ABOUT GLP PROGRAM

Good Laboratory Practice (GLP) offers a comprehensive framework of guidelines ensuring the integrity and reliability of laboratory data from clinical trials. By integrating GLP protocols, labs maintain dependability, excellence, and honesty in analyses. The GLP Workshop provides insights into essential principles, ensuring replicable and verifiable results, enhancing credibility. It offers a structured overview of key principles and protocols for medical laboratories involved in patient care and clinical research. Join us to understand the importance of GLP in maintaining high standards of practice and ensuring trustworthy research outcomes.

ABOUT SHODH CLINICALS

The GLP training program, conducted by Shodh Clinicals, focuses on a 3-D approach: "Deep Dive to Deliver Quality." We aim to collaborate with academicians, SMEs, research institutes, and scientists in the public health domain to enhance research quality.
